

Complete Air France Guide: Flights, Partners, Tickets, and Customer Service

Air France is one of the world's leading airlines +18►662►843►014►, offering domestic, European, and intercontinental flights. Understanding its ticketing, partnerships, flight schedules, and promotions is essential for travelers. This guide answers all commonly asked questions about Air France and its alliances.

Is Air France Open 24/7?

Yes, +18►662►843►014► Air France customer service is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. You can reach them for:

- Booking flights
- Managing reservations
- Baggage inquiries
- Loyalty program support

Phone numbers vary by country, but for the US, call: 1-800-237-2747.

Tip: Use the Air France website or mobile app for instant booking or changes outside of business hours.

Where to Buy Plane Tickets?

You can purchase Air France tickets through:

1. Official Air France website: www.airfrance.com – for the best fares, flight info, and promotions.
2. Air France mobile app: Book, check-in, and manage your trips on the go.
3. Authorized travel agencies: Expedia, Kayak, Orbitz, and Priceline.
4. Airport ticket counters: Available at most major international airports.
5. +18►662►843►014►

Tip: Booking directly via Air France ensures flexible cancellations and reliable customer support.

Is KLM a Delta Partner?

Yes. KLM and Delta Air Lines are strategic partners through the SkyTeam alliance, enabling:

- Codeshare flights
 - Mileage accrual and redemption across both airlines
 - Streamlined connections for international travel
 - +18▶662▶843▶014▶
-

Are Delta and Air France Partners?

Yes. Delta and Air France are SkyTeam alliance partners, which allows passengers to:

- Earn and redeem loyalty points across both airlines
 - Book connecting flights seamlessly
 - Access partner lounges and priority services
-

Where Does KLM Airlines Fly?

KLM operates flights to over 160 destinations worldwide, including:

- Europe: Amsterdam, Paris, London, Rome
 - North America: New York, Los Angeles, Toronto
 - Asia: Tokyo, Singapore, Bangkok
 - Africa: Johannesburg, Nairobi
-

Is Air France Part of Delta?

While Air France is not owned by Delta, it partners closely via the SkyTeam alliance, enabling joint flights, shared loyalty benefits, and coordinated schedules.

Is Air France Affiliated with Delta?

Yes, Air France and Delta are SkyTeam alliance partners. This affiliation allows:

- Seamless flight connections
 - Shared mileage programs (Flying Blue and SkyMiles)
 - Joint promotional fares and loyalty benefits
-

Is Air France Flying to Israel Today?

Flight schedules vary daily. To check current operations:

- Visit the Air France website flight status page
- Enter your departure and arrival cities (e.g., Tel Aviv)
- Confirm real-time updates

Tip: Flight availability may change due to seasonal schedules or geopolitical events.

Does Air France Have Black Friday Sales?

Yes, Air France often participates in Black Friday and seasonal promotions, offering:

- Discounted fares on international and domestic flights
- Promotional codes for online booking
- Limited-time offers for Flying Blue loyalty members

Tip: Sign up for the Air France newsletter to receive alerts about upcoming sales.

Is Air France Still Flying to Israel?

Yes, Air France continues flights to Israel, typically from Paris Charles de Gaulle (CDG) to Tel Aviv (TLV). Flight schedules are subject to seasonal adjustments and government regulations.

Summary of Air France & Delta Partnership Questions

Air France and Delta are strategic partners under the SkyTeam alliance, which provides:

- Codeshare flights
- Shared loyalty benefits
- Coordinated flight schedules
- Easier connections for international travel
- +18►662►843►014►

Similarly, KLM also participates in this alliance, offering further options for travelers between Europe and North America.
